YOU ARE HERE

What You're Making

- Applications: your system, put to work
- A Brand Guide that documents it all
- Turned in as one PDF, 60% of your grade

The Applications

The Applications

Full details on the Brand Guide + Applications page.

- Website
- Business card
- Presentation template
- Campaign
- Three business-specific applications

Website: Start Here

- Home page and one interior page
- Desktop and mobile: four layouts
- Pick your widths from the list on the site
- It tests your whole system at once

Website

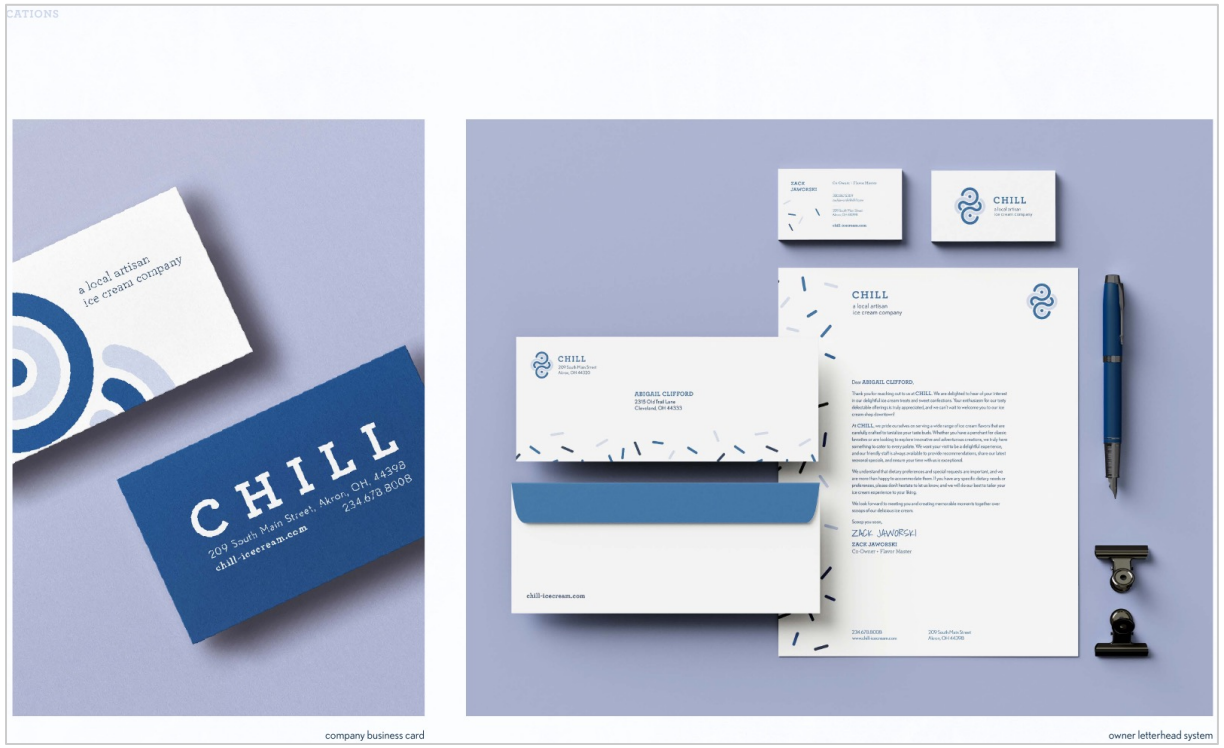

Past student example: CHILL (Siegfried)

Check Your Contrast

WebAIM Contrast Checker, linked on the assignment page.

- Body text: at least 4.5 to 1
- Large text: at least 3 to 1
- If people can't read it, it doesn't work

Business Card

CHILL designed a full stationery system. You only need the business card: front and back, 3.5 x 2 in. Past student example: CHILL (Siegfried)

Presentation Template

- Three slide types
  - Title
  - Chapter
  - Interior
- 16:9
- A system, filled with real content for your brand

Presentation Template

The CorpID lecture decks are a template system: three slide types, used every week.

Campaign: One Idea

A message or promotion your business would actually run: a seasonal sale, a grand reopening, a fundraiser.

- Two print ads
- The same two ads, as social posts
- Social profile image and banner, one platform
- An email announcing it
- The landing page it points to, desktop only

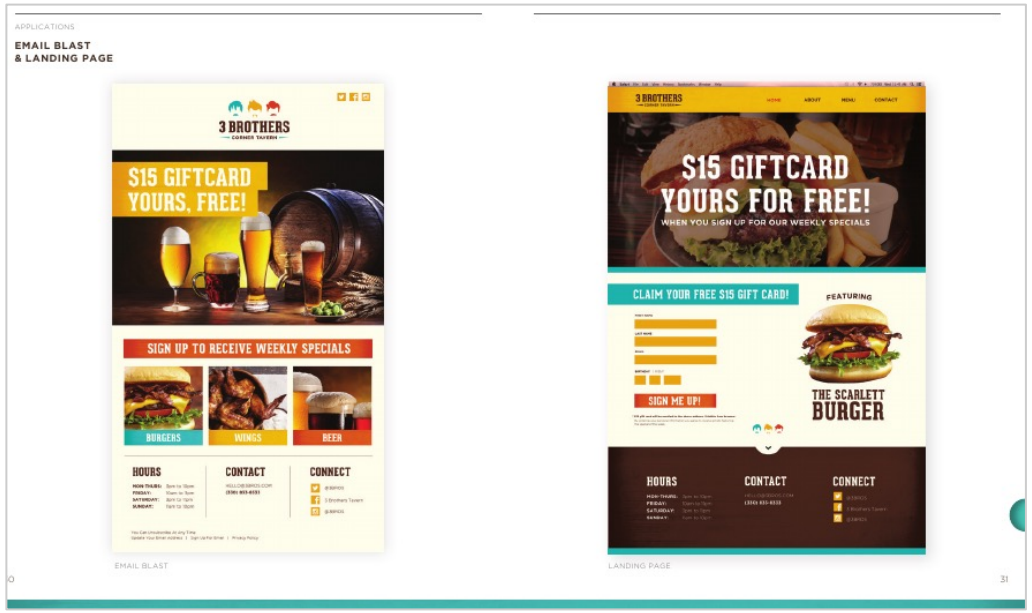

Campaign

Three Business-Specific Applications

- Things your business would actually need
- Ideas on the site, by business type
- Get my OK by Monday, October 26
  - What each one is
  - Why your business needs it

Business-Specific: An Ice Cream Shop

CUPS + PINTS

Real Copy, No Placeholder

- Every word is real and written for your brand
- Writing it yourself is best
- AI is OK for copy only
  - Your ideas first, then AI can help flesh them out
  - Note what used AI in your Process Book
  - No AI logos, imagery, or layouts
- However it's written, it has to be good

Show It in Context

- Every application in a realistic mockup
- Don't reuse the same mockup twice

The Brand Guide

What's In It

Design it in your own brand system.

- Cover and table of contents
- Brand foundation
- Logo
- Color and typography
- Visual elements
- Applications

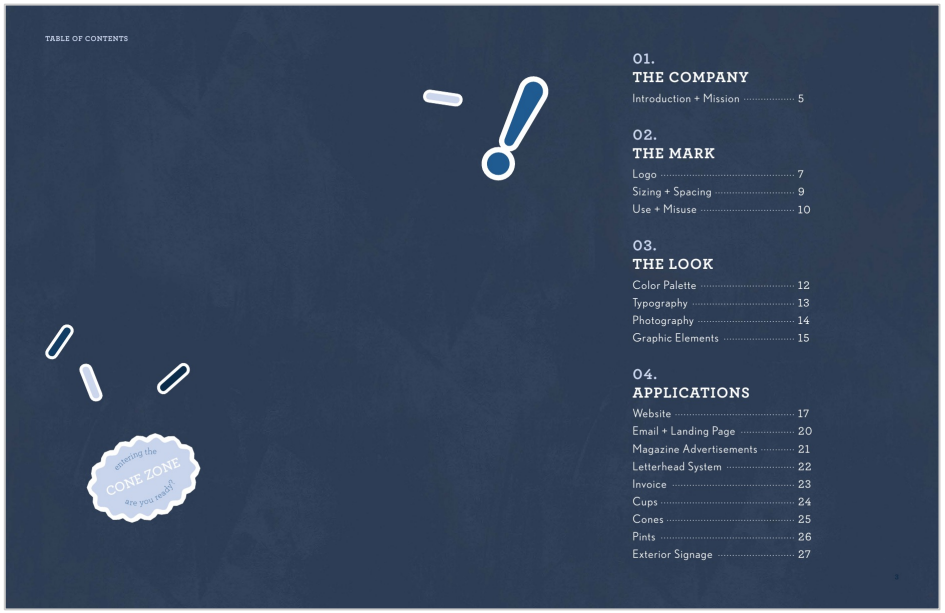

Cover and Contents

TABLE OF CONTENTS

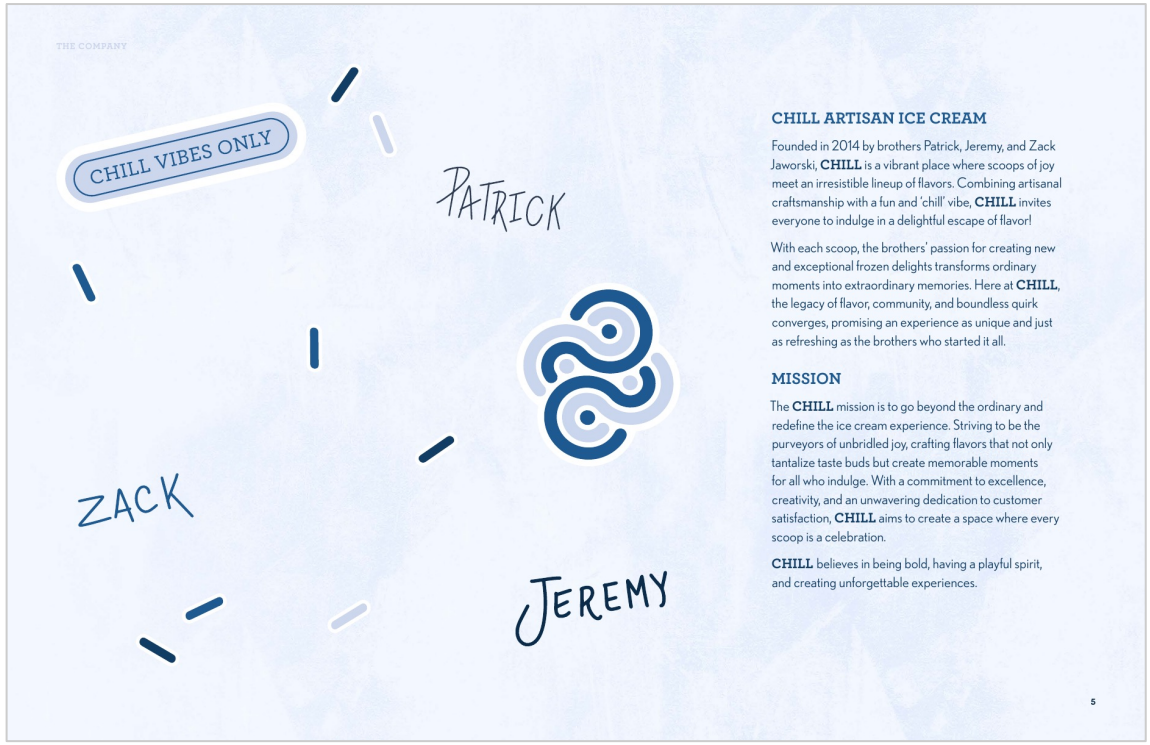

Past student example: CHILL (Siegfried)

Brand Foundation

One or two pages, pulled from your deep-dive research.

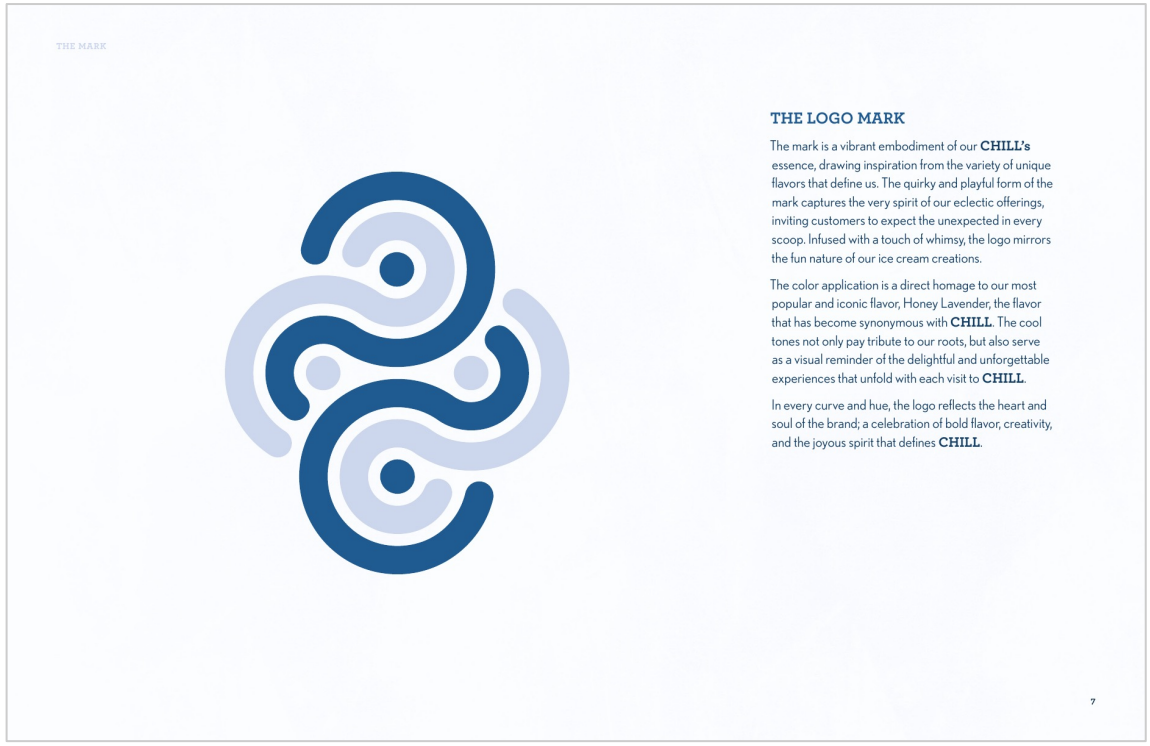

- Purpose
- Who it's for
- What makes it different
- Personality
- How it should be perceived

Closest example: CHILL's company and mission page

Logo

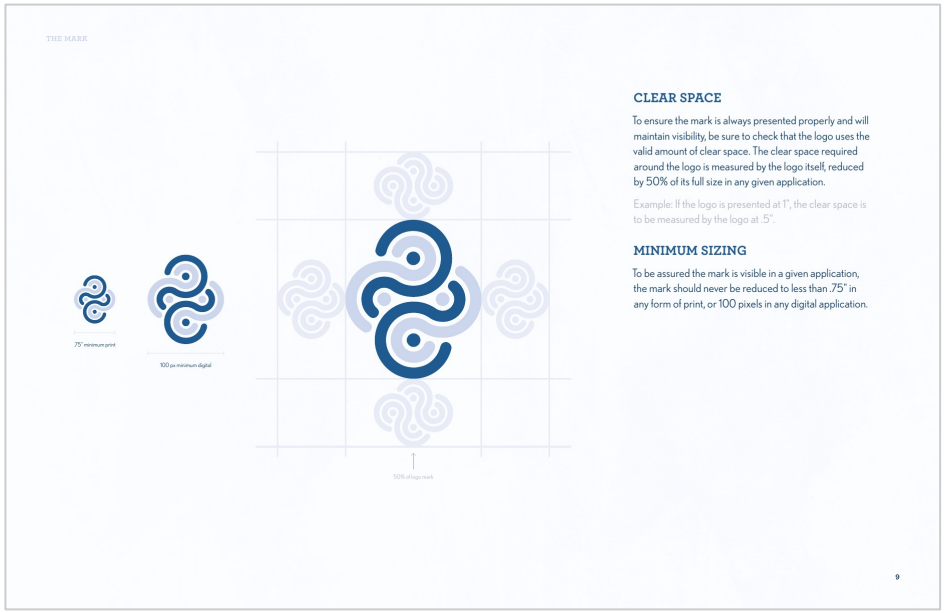

- Rationale
- Primary logo
- Lockups, with their grids
- Clear space
- Minimum size
- Positive, reversed, one-color
- Misuse examples

Rationale. Past student example: CHILL (Siegfried)

Color and Typography

- HEX, RGB, CMYK, Pantone
- Each color's role
- Exact typefaces and weights
- Hierarchy

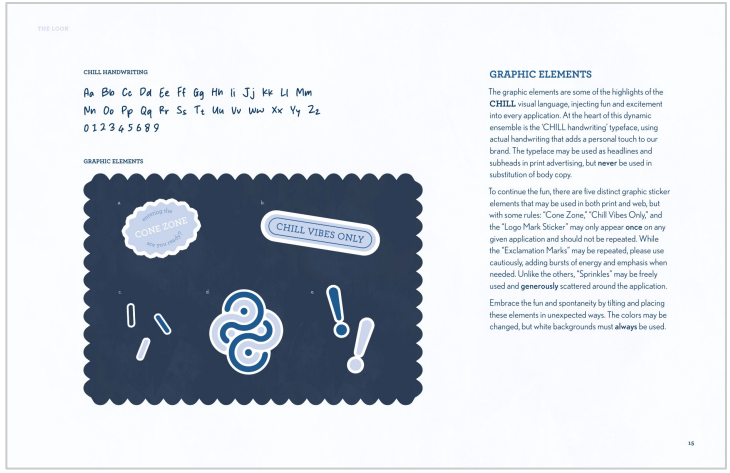

Past student example: CHILL (Siegfried)

Visual Elements

- Your style-scape
- Supporting graphic elements
- Photography direction

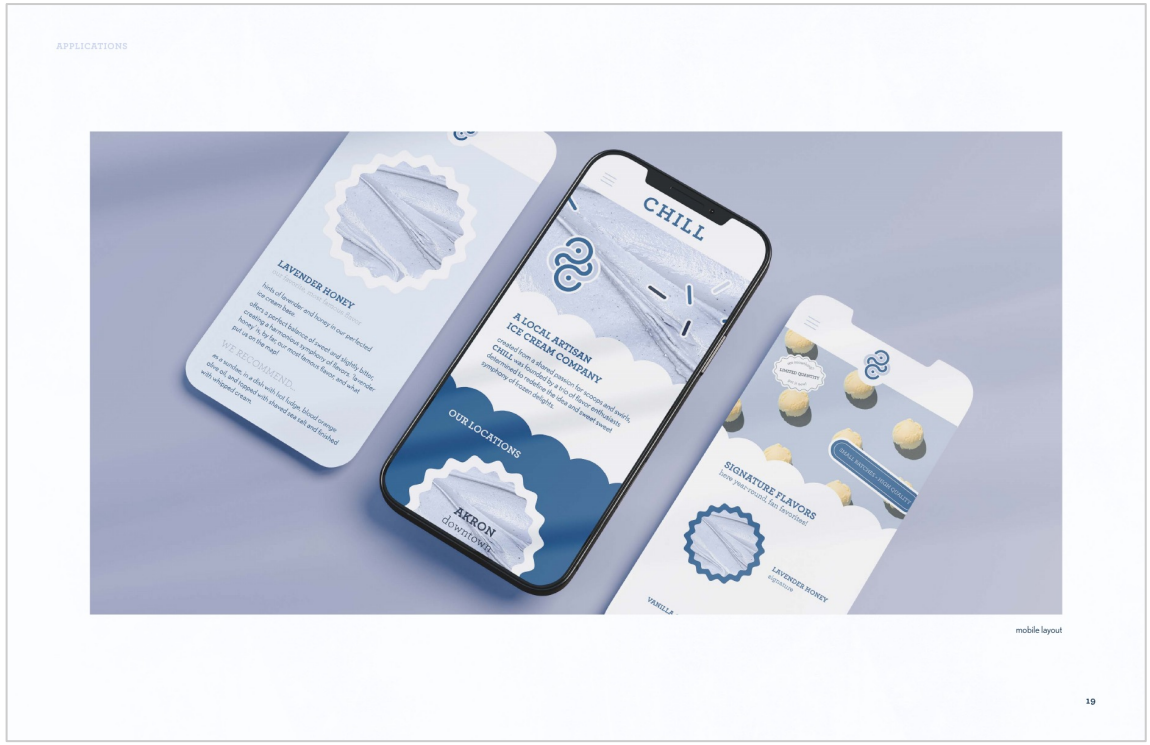

Past student example: CHILL (Siegfried)

Applications

- Every application
- Each in a realistic mockup

Turning It In

- One PDF in Brightspace: your Brand Guide
- Every application inside the guide
- Due Wednesday, December 9
- No source files

Coming Up

Coming Up

- Wed, Oct 21
  - Personal Identity overview
- Mon, Oct 26
  - Business-specific applications due for my OK
- Nov 2 and Nov 4: no class
  - Your biggest production week of the semester
- Mon, Nov 9
  - Progress check: print at 11x17, pinned on the wall

Tonight: Start Your Website

Studio time.
