Personal Identity

Class 17 · Wednesday, October 21, 2026

Personal Identity

You Are Your First Client

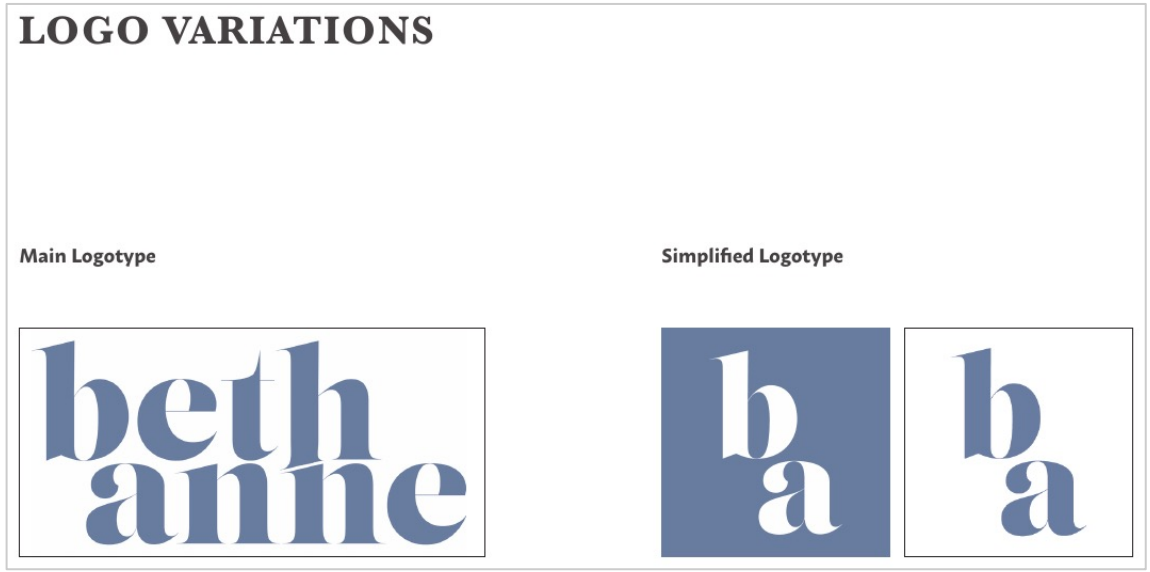

- Every application and interview starts with your name
- Same thinking as your main project, smaller scale
- Ask the same questions
  - Who is it for: studios, employers, clients
  - What should they think of you?
  - What makes you different?

What You're Making

- A typographic mark
- A business card
- A resume
- Due Wednesday, November 18 · 5%

The Mark

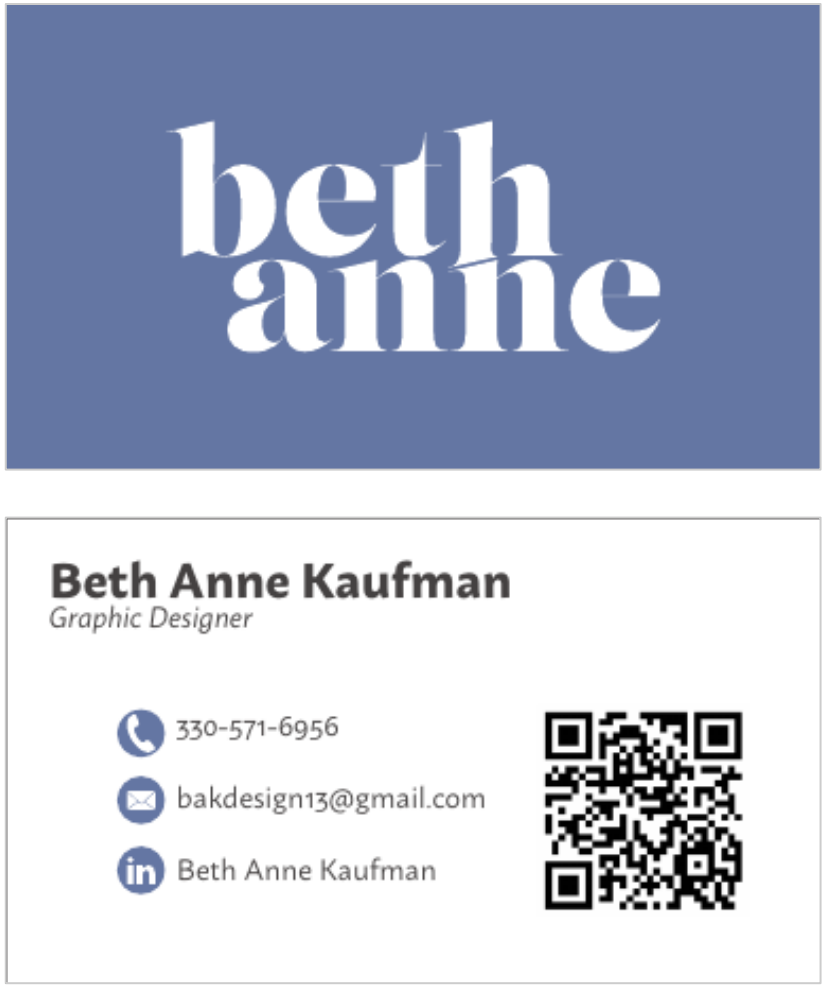

- Typographic: your name or initials
- Works in one color
- Holds up small: avatar, favicon
- A full version and a simplified version

Past student example: Kaufman

Business Card

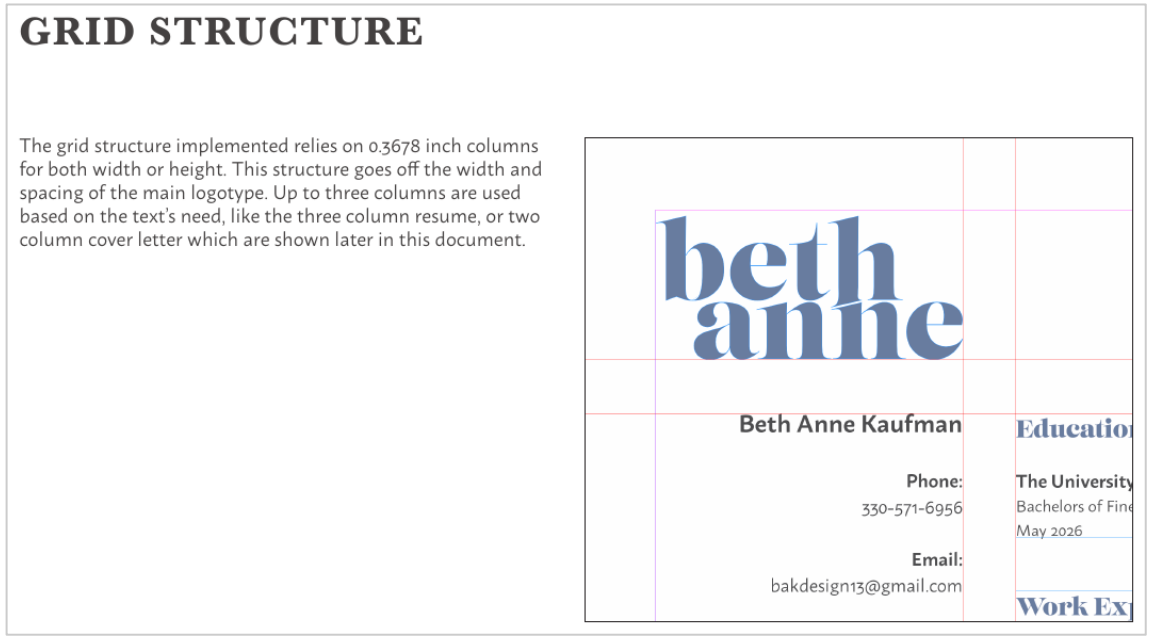

- Front and back
- Real info: name, email, portfolio
- Same type and color as your mark

Past student example: Kaufman

Resume

- One page
- Built on a grid: show me the grid
- Real content, no placeholder
- Same system as your mark and card

Past student example: Kaufman, resume grid

Optional, If You'll Use It

Not required. Worth doing if it helps you get hired.

- Cover letter or letterhead
- Email signature
- Portfolio site header
- Social avatar

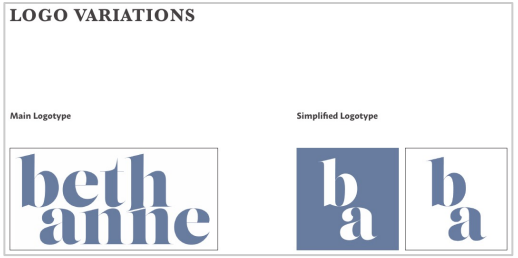

One Student's System

Past student example: Kaufman

COVER

MARK + VARIATIONS

RESUME

COVER LETTER

In Use

Mockups shown here. Yours don't need them.

BUSINESS CARD

RESUME + COVER LETTER

Turning It In

- One PDF in Brightspace
- Inside it
  - Your mark: full and simplified
  - Business card: front and back
  - Resume
- Flat files are fine, no mockups needed
- Due Wednesday, November 18

When to Work on It

- Your switch-to project when you're stuck on applications
- A little at a time, starting now
- Don't save it for the week of November 16

Coming Up

- Mon, Oct 26
  - Business-specific applications due for my OK
- Nov 2 and Nov 4: no class
  - Your biggest production week of the semester
- Mon, Nov 9
  - Progress check: print at 11x17, pinned on the wall
- Wed, Nov 18
  - Personal Identity due

Studio Time